I have a new strategy, a table I reserved

at 6pm sharp, the first beer will be served the reservations for 8, but it is just me and my friend so 6 more respond, to commit to drink'n # please see my original post for a Limerick with the first tacky 'n use....

we shall become friends or enemies, within a short night and hopefully will continue the relationship til we fly ... home.... # crappy end to the second crappy limerick

OK. we can fill the joint with online reservations. I did a credit card reservation for 8, of which me and my colleague need 6 of you guys to join us, going dutch. It is at 6pm under my name (Fuka).First 6 to reply in limerick, get the spots, the 7th should reserve another table for 4-8 with the Maitre D' instructions to sit you near the Fuka table.

Any EMC folk, we have a budget for more disk and need to talk to some engineers that know how to get the performance out of the Celerra. So feel free to join our table.

What an idiot I am, the wrong list I replied, confusion is great, so late in the night.

have kind disregards, to my crappy limerick will copy my last message to the correct email list.
